

Preliminary Decision Process

The RAA's Preliminary Decision Process allows applicants, assessed and deemed ineligible based on their supporting documents, an opportunity to demonstrate eligibility for the program.

The process allows applicants time to provide additional relevant documentation or information to address the ineligible aspects of the application.

The RAA will consider this additional information prior to a final decision being made.

Application Assessment

Preliminary Decision Process

